

For summer 2022, Vueling will be operating flights from Milan Bergamo Airport to Paris

The Spanish airline will be running direct flights between Milan Bergamo - Orio al Serio and Paris Orly.

Bergamo, 19 May 2022 - Vueling, an airline belonging to the IAG group, will be operating 56 routes in 16 Italian airports for summer 2022. In particular, Vueling will be offering flights to and from Paris Orly and Milan Bergamo - Orio Al Serio (up to 3 times a week) for the entire summer period.

“Vueling continues to focus on Italy, proving to be a key airline for the country”, commented Jordi Pla Pintre, Network Director for Vueling. “The aim is to maintain a solid standing in the market and continue to offer interesting routes to our passengers, with increasingly dedicated services in an ever-more sustainable manner”.

Thanks to its network, the Spanish airline is able to offer 330 routes, of which 224 are international, with a particular concentration at London Gatwick and Paris Orly airports. Until 29 October, Vueling is planning a total of 113 destinations in 31 countries, reaching levels very similar to those of 2019.

Vueling

Vueling, an airline belonging to the IAG group, plays a key role in the Spanish air travel network, the largest domestic market in Europe. For summer 2022, the airline is offering a network of more than 330 short- and medium-range routes in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East, operated with a fleet of Airbus A319s, A320s, A320neos and A321s.

In 2021, Vueling won the World Airline Awards as “Europe’s Best Low-Cost Airline”. Furthermore, with IAG, Vueling shares the vision of sustainability in the global air travel sector, which is why the airline is focusing on the “Flighpath Net Zero” programme, with the aim of reaching net zero CO2 emissions by 2050.

Vueling currently advises all passengers to use its digital tool on the internet and in the mobile app, which provides updated information on the documentation required for travel to all destinations.
